One Day Shanghai Tour April 20th, 2012

8:30 am Depart from Suzhou Dushu Lake Hotel

Pass through Nanpu Bridge

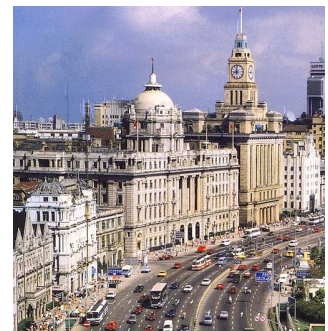

Arrive at Shanghai at around 10:30am.

Lying on the estuary of Chang Jiang (Yangtze) River, Shanghai is regarded as the economic capital in Mainland China. Besides its leading role of economic development, Shanghai also serves as the important cultural, financial, trading and industrial centers of China.

10:30 am – 1:00 pm The Bund and lunch (Chinese Cuisine)

One of Shanghai's most recognizable destinations, the Bund's impressive collection of foreign concession-era Art Deco and neoclassical architecture feature a unique combination of Western and Chinese characteristics. The Bund also affords an excellent view across the Huangpu River of Pudong's towering skyline, creating a stunning contrast between past and present faces of Shanghai.

1:00 pm – 2:00 pm The Shanghai World Financial Center

Completed in 2008 and currently the tallest building in Shanghai (not to mention China), the Shanghai World Financial Center stands as an architectural exclamation point tacked on to the end of the astonishing period of economic growth and construction that has transformed the Lujiazui district of Pudong (the east bank of the Huangpu River) from mudflats, warehouses and farms into one of the world's most impressive skylines.

2:00 – 3:00 Chenghuang Miao Temple

The Temple of the Town Deity is located south of Yuyuan Garden. There used to be a temple to the local deity, which the inhabitants believed would protect them, in every city. The city deities were frequently real persons to whom the town owed something. Today, an arts and crafts store is in the temple.
